

DC Plan Summit 2021 – Conference Theme

Redefining the role of DC plans

The novel coronavirus sent shocks throughout the market and accelerated many global trends, changing the way companies operate indefinitely. And for plan sponsors and members in defined contribution plans, the pandemic gave renewed urgency to longstanding questions: What does decumulation look like in the DC context? How can sustainability objectives work alongside retirement savings goals? What do market changes mean for current investment options? And how can plan sponsors support employees in saving for both the short and long term, while educating members about risk tolerance? The 2021 DC Plan Summit will look at how the role of DC plans is being redefined against a backdrop of acute uncertainty and what plan sponsors can do to stay at the leading edge of change.