

Strategy in a world of disruption

Today, the world is undergoing a paradigm shift. It's not only changing because of technological innovation, but it has now been permanently accelerated. And business leaders are now looking for new ways of approaching work. Navigating this disruption, will require organizations to abandon the set of ideas and practices that may have been successful in the past. It has forced them to make bold decisions in a world of uncertainty. How can companies build a culture of innovation? How can they manage the increased gigification of work? How can they incentivize and reward talent when their work has fundamentally changed? Today, organizations need to be bold, brave, and experimental. In this session, Shawn Kanungo will provide a roadmap for the future. He explores how businesses can take unexpected approaches to innovation and behavioural insights to remain relevant.
